

NIYOKWIZERA JEAN D AMOUR

Computer and software engineering

I'm a dynamic software developer with a passion for python development. With little years of experience in backend design, I've honed my skills in Google suits professional. I thrive in environments that demand creativity, problem-solving, and collaboration, and I'm driven by the opportunity to transform the world technology through doing best and advanced technological solution. Let's connect and explore how we can collaborate to the best version of solution we want.
